DETAILED ACTIONResponse to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-4 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-4 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Satoh et al US 5,303,225 and in further view of Ono et al. US 6,002,655.

Regarding claim 1, Satoh et al. teach a single-sided multi-layer optical information recording medium comprising "n" information layers, where "n"≥2, the information layers being formed on a substrate (3 and 4 of Fig. 6, Col 3 Lines 36-43) and on and from which a signal can be recorded and reproduced by a laser beam that is applied through the substrate (Col 6 Lines 9-11), wherein an optical separating layer is formed between the information layers (5 of Fig. 3, Col 3 Lines 36-43), each of the "n" information layers has a sector structure having sector address portions (ID_a or ID_b of Fig. 7, Col 3 Lines 43-58) and data areas for recording information signals (DF of Fig. 7, Col 3 Lines 50-54), and the sector address portion and the data area are divided in a circumferential direction (ID_a or ID_b and DF of Fig. 7), and the information layer do not overlap with at least the sector address portions of an adjacent information layer(s) in a stack direction of the information layers (ID_a or ID_b of Fig. 6, Col 4 Line 65 - Col 5 Line 7). Satoh et al. fails to directly teach the "n" information layers have the same sector structure.

However, Ono et al. teach the "n" information layers having the same sector structure (Fig. 3a, Col 4 Lines 44-50, Col 6 Lines 20-24). Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to combine the teachings of the multi-layer optical information recording medium as taught by Satoh et al. with the teachings of parallel track path as taught by Ono et al. as a whole, to include the same sector structure by using a parallel track path design for the benefit of minimizing the pause between switching layers.

Regarding claim 2, Satoh et al. teach the optical information recording medium according to claim 1, wherein the sector address portions of each information layer do not overlap with sector address portions of any other of the information layers in the stack direction of the information layers (ID_a or ID_b of Fig. 6 or Fig. 10, Col 4 Line 65 - Col 5 Line 7 or Col 6 Lines 7-31).

Regarding claim 3, Satoh et al. teach the optical information recording medium according to claim 1, wherein "n"=2 (3 and 4 of Fig. 6, Col 3 Lines 35-44).

Regarding claim 4, the limitations have been analyzed and rejected for the same reasons as set forth above with respect to claim 1.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
